

Introduction

While Sanchez loves all agave spirits, not all agave spirits are created equal. He could talk to you for hours about why mezcal can be produced in 9 states while tequila can only be produced in 4, and how for tequila to be tequila it can only be made with blue weber agave, but these conversations can take hours.

Instead let us take you through some of Sanchez's best memories travelling through Mexico's greatest regions, from Sonora to Jalisco and all the way down to Oaxaca. These places have one thing in common - they make great agave spirits.

Our menu has been carefully curated by our passionate team, who have brought together their collective experiences and cultural insights from around the globe.

TEQUILA

Tequila is only tequila if it's from Jalisco, Nayarit, Guanajuato or Tamaulipas.

Sanchez at the age of 4 with papá.

Blanco

El Primo loves a shot of blanco, tequila's most pure form; unaged and untampered.

Expect citrus, pepper and a strong hit of agave

MEZCAL

El Primo travels all through Mexico for his mezcals, from the Oaxacan mainstays to the north west state of Durango. No two mezcals are alike, and that goes for batches as well as regions.

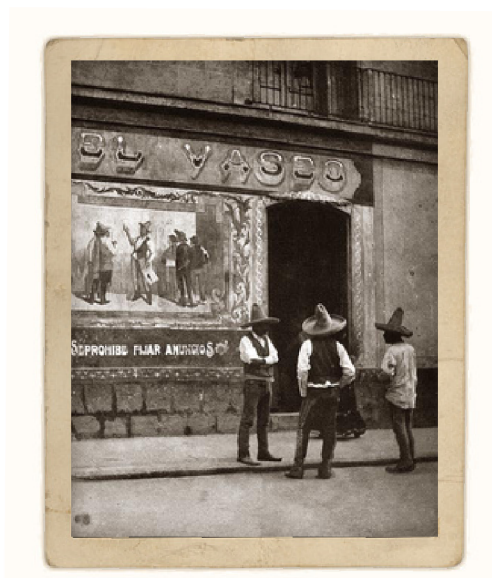

Oaxaca

Last Guelaguetza Sanchez was found on the side of the street after a few too many mezcales. 'Solo uno mas' he could be heard mumbling, it seems only fitting that he got carried away in the birthplace of mezcal. Oaxaca is at the forefront of mezcal production.

Sanchez travelling through Mexico to discover the world of agave.

MEZCAL

Sanchez would frequent parties of Hollywood A-listers from the 50s-60s, using Acapulco as their getaway.

Sanchez appeared in the movie 'Fun In Acapulco' in 1963 together with his friend Elvis. He is the one with the hat.

Mucho Amor

1963

*Someone once told Sanchez:
"When you kiss a woman kiss her like a mezcal"*

Durango

Durango is the only state that produces both Mezcal and Sotol, less than 2% of Mezcal comes from Durango, and for the most part it's quite traditional, with little to no use of a tahona for crushing purposes.

AGAVE

There are more than 270 types of agave plant.
We don't want to make it more complicated for you but not every agave spirit is tequila or mezcal.

El Primo doing in the world cup in Mexico 1986 lifting Maradona?
We don't know...just drink more Bacanora.*

Other Agave

(Australians attempting agave)

Many years ago, Sanchez's granddad Don Heraclio smuggled some agave plants from Mexico, hoping to cultivate an agave spirit culture in Australia.

Just before he was deported from the country, he spread the idea of pechuga utilising Australian wildlife over a few cheekily smuggled mezcal.
